Property Summary

The property comprises two double bedrooms, separate living and dining room, a family kitchen and bathroom, arranged over two floors.

Sheaf Street is steeped in history, with many of its buildings dating back 200-300 years. This apartment retains a wealth of original features, including Georgian-style sash windows, a spiral staircase, feature fireplace and a beautiful oak beam, believed to have originally formed part of an oak galleon ship. The building was sympathetically restored by the current owners between 1983 and 1985, carefully preserving its historic charm while introducing modern services. It has since been thoughtfully maintained and updated to a high standard. A truly individual home, offering charm, character and a fascinating piece of Daventry's history right on the doorstep of the town centre.
